

Peter Thorpe

Born: 9th November 1957

Artist and book cover designer

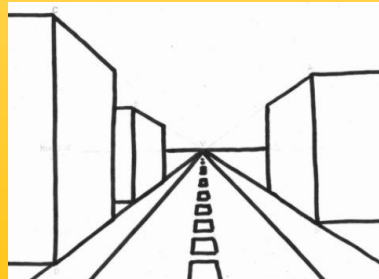

Space Art

Knowledge and Skills	Assessment
Experiment with shading to create different textures
Use perspective to add depth
Apply hard and soft lines
Record ideas in our art books

Perspective is used to create depth and make objects look like they are closer or further away. This creates a 3D impression.

We can use different techniques to change texture of how things look and feel.

Hard, soft and dashed lines can be used to focus our attention on different objects. They can also express the mood or atmosphere.

